

THE FOCAL POINT

Vol. 56, Issue 5

MAY 2020

IYAR - Sivan 5780

From Your Rabbi...

We are currently in the period of counting the Omer, the 49 days between Pesach and Shavuot. As I sit to write this, we are 15 days into the Omer. The way that we phrase the count is, "Today is 15 days, which are two weeks and one day of the Omer." We are required to count both the weeks and the days.

There are many people joking now that we actually have two counts to keep track of - not just the Omer, but also how long we've been under the stay-at-home order! Here in the Kansas City metro area, that order came on March 24th (although it feels like quite a long time ago already!). And so, when May 1st comes, one might simulate their own Omer-style count for the home quarantine as follows: Today is 39 days, which are five weeks and four days of the quarantine!

The anonymous author of the Sefer HaChinuch (Book of Instruction), from 13th century Spain, asks why when counting the Omer our custom is to count up (from 1 to 49), instead of counting down from (49 to 1). When you're excited about something, he argues, you ought to count down to it! Shavuot commemorates the day on which we received the Torah, and so we ought to count down the days in anticipation of that great annual celebration.

He answers that the reason we count up is to sanctify the period of the Omer itself, to show that we're excited to be during that transitional period itself, not just biding our time until it's over. And so, by counting up, we chart the spiritual progress we've made during that period so far. We rise higher and higher each day.

We ought to apply the same logic to this "stay at home" period. Of course we look forward with anticipation for it to finally end, but as long as we're in it, let's commit to making progress during this time – progress in our relationships with those we might be sharing a roof with, progress in our relationship with God, and progress with ourselves. We can also strengthen relationships with those with whom we aren't currently able to meet in person by calling, texting, emailing, etc.

We look forward to seeing you back at shul soon. In the meantime, let's continue to connect on all of our Zoom programs. Please check your email inbox for our daily updates of the virtual stuff that we've got going on!

And finally, since I'm feeling nostalgic for a few weeks ago, when we were still able to hold large gatherings, I'll share a photo that I took of me and Josh Shron, who I bumped into at AIPAC in early March (see page 4). There were 18,000 people there! Here's to hoping we get back to being able to stage such large gatherings again soon enough.

Wishing everyone a meaningful Omer.

Rabbi Moshe Grussgott

From Your President...

April was a good month. Not everyone will agree with that statement. After all, we celebrated Passover under conditions, I'm sure, no one anticipated or even imagined at the beginning of the year 2020.

I know people all over the world "held" or "attended" a Seder on ZOOM. It appears that ZOOM came out at the perfect time. We use it for meetings quite regularly. I also know that a few people reading this article might say I shouldn't talk about ZOOM – it's not allowed for use on Shabbat and Jewish holidays. I'm not advocating the use of ZOOM on Shabbat or Jewish holidays. I'm merely pointing out that Jews all over the world found a way to stay in touch with their parents, grandparents, children, grandchildren, other relatives and friends and celebrated Passover this year. Somehow, the word got out and spread faster than the virus.

I hope all of you are doing well, staying home as much as possible, washing your hands, wearing masks, and listening to what our experts are telling us to do.

Members of the Board of Directors have called the general membership to let you know that we are thinking of you and are eager to help where needed. If you need help with anything, please call any board member or officer. You may also call the synagogue and leave a message – someone will call you back. We are interested in your welfare. Our purpose is to serve you.

We are entering the month of May, one of my favorite months of the year. The days will be longer and the weather will be warmer. Spend as much time as you can outside and enjoy.

Take out your cell phone and look up Kveller and My Jewish Learning. They have wonderful articles and recipes.

Read K.I.'s daily email where we tell you what's going on "Today through Thursday." There's a lot of information and lots to do if you wish.

For the meantime, be safe and stay well. Please call if you need us.

Keep smiling,

Marty Gorin, President

April 2020

Due to Covid-19, more consumers have turned to online shopping for their groceries, which makes it more difficult to determine whether a given item is kosher-certified. To facilitate shopping in this new reality, the cRc has compiled a short list of items that do not require certification. These items are inherently kosher, and nothing is done to them during the manufacturing process that affects their kosher status. This list can be used for both online and offline shopping, and even when we return to in-person grocery shopping.
